

Concentration exercise: position at comfortable distance in front of you (experiment to see what works best). Then focus left eye on left circle and right eye on right circle. When brain is balanced and you're seeing equally with both eyes the image will appear as a circle with a cross through it and a red dot on both sides. Hold this state of focus for as long as possible or desired.